Q: My last employer's insurance used to encourage preventive checkups with my doctor. I have Medicare now and would like to keep up with these checks. Does Medicare cover anything like that?

A: Yes! Medicare pays for many preventive services when the services are offered by a doctor or other qualified health care provider who accepts Medicare assignment.

You can get a "Welcome to Medicare" visit during the first 12 months that you have Medicare. This includes a review of your medical and social history related to your health and education and counseling about preventive services, including certain screenings, shots, and referrals for other care if needed.

Medicare also covers a yearly "Wellness" visit. You can get this visit if you've had Part B for longer than 12 months, and it's covered every 12 months.

Be sure to tell your health care office exactly what type of visit you are scheduling when you make the appointment.
